Twelve Days of Spring

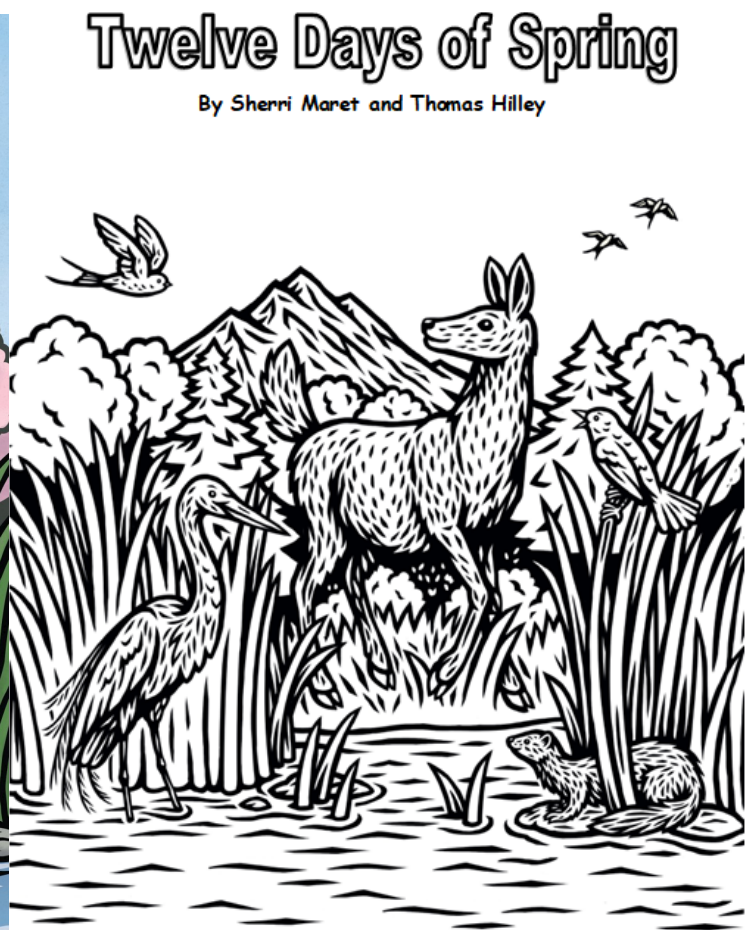

By Sherri Maret and Thomas Hilley

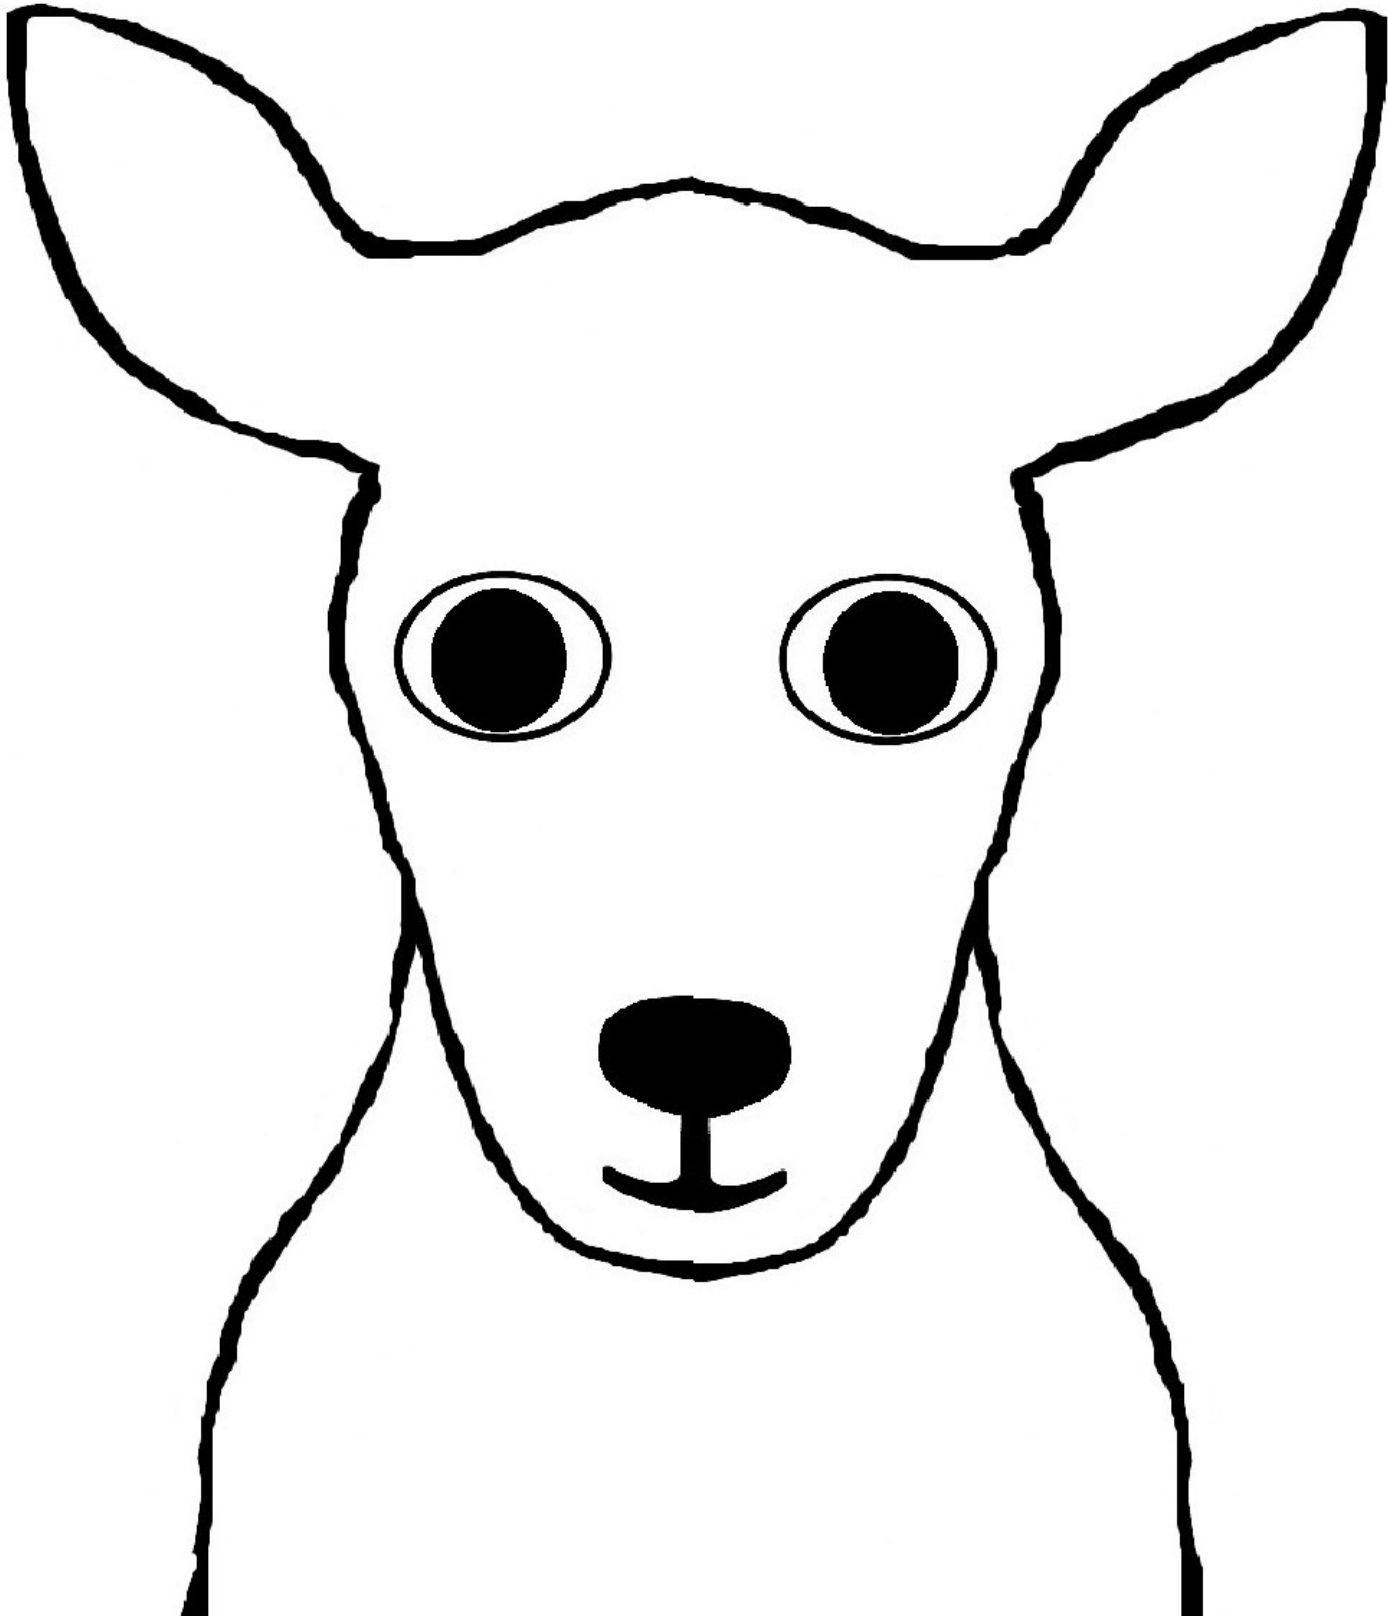

Tips for using this book in an educational setting.

When I read this to children, I have the children repeat the main line which is 'and a hungry deer browsing in a field.' I also add they chant "chomp, chomp."

The deer template can be used any way you want to but I like to use construction paper and tear it to give deer a more layered look. Don't forget to check out the tracks activity which uses animals from all four books! Questions? Just ask!
